

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

AMONG the manuscript treasures of the Bodleian Library is a collection known as the Tanner Papers. It was formed and left to the Library by the Rev. Thomas Tanner, who died Bishop of St. Asaph in 1735. He was a devoted antiquary and an eager collector of old letters and documents of all kinds. There is an elaborate catalogue of the collection, which comprises 467 numbers, described in a folio volume of 1176 pages. A large part of the Bishop's life was passed in the Diocese of Norwich, and therefore much of his collection relates to East Anglia and East Anglian families. In it are the following letters relating to the family of Appleton of Little Waldingfield, the immediate relatives of Samuel Appleton, who came to New England. The Bishop undoubtedly obtained them direct from the family, for his second wife was Frances, born 1687-8, daughter of Jacob Preston, who was plainly son of Jacob Preston, who married, in 1639, Frances, daughter of Sir Isaac Appleton and niece of Samuel of New England. The letters were copied for me many years ago by Colonel Chester, and though not specially important, I have decided to carry out an intention of long standing and have a few copies printed. The list of them gives the titles as they are found in the catalogue, with correction of a few slight mistakes.

GOOD S^r ISACK

glad would I bee that I mought but have occasion in any thing to shew some part of that love which I shall ever bee owing you, but so it is that I am not at all acquaynted with Doctor Newcom nether any freind that I have in Cambridge to my knowledge ; wherfore I could not goe to him with any hope to have effected any thing, yet at the last bethinking my selfe I thought of Doctor Dewport, with whom though my acquayntance bee but small, yet I resolved rather to have come to him then that nothing should bee effected — wherupon wee resolved that M^r Lindsell should goe first alone to Doctor Newcom, and then if hee did not prevayle, I would goe to the other Doctor to move him. Since this evening I understand by Mr. Lindsell who hath beene with the Doctor that his indifferent tractable to use meanes that Mr. Lindsell should bee no looser, but hee would have them come presently to an agreement, that the other mought presently have some part of the tythes this yeere which perceyving to bee cleane contrary to your minde, becing that hee should by this meanes come into possession agayne, I persuaded Mr Lindsell in no case to yeeld to an agreement: which if hee doe not there will bee no danger in regard of the revocation of the sequestration, because it was nether given by the judge nor his deputy according to forme of law, nether was there lawfull notice heerof given Mr Lindsell as his attorney heere at Cambridge informeth him as hee will tell you more at large. Therefore I thinke as there is no danger though the Doctor will not bee persuaded, so I am afraid that hee is wrought so soundly by the other part that Doctor Dewport will hardly bee able to persuade him against his profit: howsoever I am resolved in the morning according to purpose to goe to Doctor Dewport. Thus wishing you good successe in all your affayres, comending my selfe hartely unto you and the rest of your company though unknowne excusing my selfe for not coming because my litle nag is ether strayed or stolen of the greene, expecting your happy returne into Cambridgeshyre I comitt you all to the protection of the Almighty the distanc of place bars friend from sight and conferanc one with an other which were a graet comfort but I must confes my selfe faltie that I haue not in this way more often presented my loue to you to hom beesides the bond of nature I haue bin soe much beholding to for curtecyes which although I am hopeles to be able to requite yet I shall neuer faile to aknowledge.

Cossen when I did see you last we had some words conserning mony remaining in your hands which M^r Eure was made aquanted with and I soppose you exspect to here from me my desier wher it should be payed, The monyes all come in ; the accountes cast vp ; your selfe alowed what mony you haue layed forth in my business or any loss in the monyes comeing in ; soe as your selfe is saued harmless in all respects of charge conserning me, the remainder I am willing M^r Eure should reseue it, thus much I signifye to you at this tyme the rather because I know if things be soe prepared as it sutes with your acasions it would come oportunely to M^r Eure in regarde of his layings forth at his reading I pray misstake me not I doe not respect my owne conuenienc and neglect yours if the mony be not come all into your hand that you may make your accounts euen I hasten it not but leaue to you for the tyme as it may be conueniant for you I remember my louing

Accordinge to my promise I haue by my man sent M^r Ryce his will together with a Com^{on} directed to M^r Lambert to give her the oath, that soe it may passe the seale before the Court, for fear of that w^{ch} I acquainted you wth, that w^{ch} now is to be done is, that M^{rs} Allen be presently sent for, & also M^r Lambert, & that he doth give her the oath accordinge to this Com^{on}, I shall not need to give any further directions about the dispatch of this Act in regard my man will stay the ex-peditinge of it, & to bringe it back againe himselfe, if he come time enough to night, it were not amisse that it were dispatcht this night, but if he doe not, it will suffice that she &

Mr Lambert be wth you to-morrowe morninge very early when I haue appointed my man to attend the busines againe, & soe to come away wth it for Bury.

I shold be glad to hear of the retorne of yo^r messenger from Dco^r Smith, & of his answear, one thinge if you please to consider upon, that the six monethes are almost expired, since Mr Willis his death, & whether that may preiudice, it is a disputeable matter, if it be o^r good fortune to have a presentat^{ion} I shall proceede to save it from the laps upon that poynt, Soe I take my leave remayning

I returned to Cambridg last Saterdag through the waters & floods & gott a great cold so as I was forced to keep in & take a little gentle phisick, & this day we receiued Mr. Cages letter. first as for the vicaridg of Preston, Emmanuel Colledge is now more sollicitous & troubled wth Mr Copingers uniust possessiō then my daughter is, for their counsell tells them that he being instituted by M^r William Hobarts title as heyre at Comōn Lawe doth & will cleane barr their colledg foreuer by this vsurpacōn & carry the patronage to him & his heyres if Mr. Copinger be not cast out. And to cast him out they haue earnestly 4 or 5 times moued me, to ioine wth my Lord Bishop of Killmore in Ireland (viz. M^r W. Bedell a cofeffee wth me & M^r Stansby) they are most assured of y^e Bishop to do anything for them, & of my knowledg haue allready writt to Dr. Holdsworth to write to the Bishop to make a letter of Attornye to me & to D^r Holdsworth y^e M^r & to M^r Clark p^rsident of Emanuell Colledg & to euery of vs ioynly & seuerally to sue in any courte wthsoeuer ag^t M^r Hobert & M^r Copinger to cast him out & to settle the Inheritance according to my brother Ryece's pious intencōn. they haue also writt a letter to my daughter Allen y^t she would not make any release to M^r Copinger but to ioine wth the Bishop & me & their colledge, but they think (& so doe I) that my brother Samuella Apleton (by y^e lease w^{ch} my brother Ryece made him for 41 yeares) hath the best title of all the rest And are assured by counsell y^t if all these 3 seuerall titles (viz. my brother Samuels first, & secondly the feoffees, & thirdly the executrix) as they are all deriued from my brother Ryece, will faithfully ioine together (as in conscience & equity they & wee all are bound & wilbe els compelled or punished in chancery) ag^t M^r Hobart & M^r Copinger to establish my brother Ryece his pious Intention & graunt for the good of the colledge; that then there wilbe no question but all o^r forces laid & ioyned together wilbe vnconquerable. I am told y^t a bill will ly in starr-chamber ag^t M^r Hobert & M^r Copinger & their assistants for confederacy in these things, viz.

first to defraud the colledg of their Inheritance by this Vsurpa^{cion} of M^r Hobarts in seeking to draw the patronage to him & his heyres for euer, (which wilbe soe vnless M^r Copinger be remoued).

2^{ly} to make sure the sayd vsurpa^{cion} & to debarre vs frō our course in law, they p^{re}cured their Institu^{cion} to be concealed frō recording, & vpon search the Bishops register denyed to shew his booke of institu^{cions}, p^{re}testing there was no such institu^{cion} & to color his p^{re}testa^{cion} he shewed a booke of subscriptions wherein euery one must subscribe his name by canon law before he shold be instituted & in this booke the Bishops Secretary left his name out by w^{ch} juggling wee caused a Caveat to be putt in against anie institu^{cion} of anie & gaue the Secretary a fee for it

Thirdly for their combina^{cion} to overthrow my brother Ryecees will & by inserting scandalous & libellous defamacon, ag^t the dead & living & such as was altogether imptinent to the matter.

4^{ly} this will add something viz. their practise to gett M^r Munings p^{re}senta^{cion} into their handes p^{ar}tly by feare & p^{ar}tly by other priuat consideracons w^{ch} I think some of Emanuell Colledg will sift out— And for all their pride they shall find that the colledg & the feoffees wilbe stronger then the best of their confederates & wthout all question will puaile to haue the assistance of the Archbishop ag^t them & all the Judges & counsell table, if need should be, who haue euer beene Honorable & carefull to pserue the Inheritance of colledges & of such pious donacons as this is— And we all heere at Cambridge doe vnanimously agree that to countenance & strengthen o^r suite in law ag^t them, wee must pitch vpon some man of note & eminency to be p^sented to the liuing when time comes (whereof yet there is no need at all till we pceed in lawe) to take away all suspicons & clamors of all Aduersaries.

I haue allready taken full order to preuent all lapses & dangers & have giuen instructions to take out 3 seuerall writtes of Quare Impedit ag^t M^r Copinger & M^r Hobart according to 3 seuerall titles deriued frō my brother Ryece, viz. one in the name of vs w^{ch} are feoffees, another in the name of my dangleter & a third in the name of my brother Samuell that so wee may incounter them at euery turne in all their sleighes. On Saterdag I looke for an answere what is done. But wee could not tell how to bring any writt at all untill such time as we sawe M^r Hoberts p^sentacon [The w^{ch} I could not sue vpon¹] The writtes of Quare Impedit

are brought ag^t the Bishop & M^r Hobart & M^r Copinger — Mr Colman is in a place of subordinacōn to y^e B^p, & though he may help a man in his owne office, yet of small power out of his owne spheare & his brother is but a M^r of Arts of 2 yeares standing & was neuer fellow of any colledg & but meanly esteemed of in the colledg where he was & though M^r Tho: Copinger be of a priuate obscure respect yet a superior to M^r Coleman, & an Inferior will not so readily find freinds ag^t a supior especially being no better befrended aboue then he is but this I pray keepe to yo^r selfe for I would be loath to disparage any man, but I feare that both he & his brother wilbe too weake in freinds aboue either to effect this suite, or to helpe my daughter Allen vpon M^r Hobertes appeale, The President of Emanuell thinks y^t our M^r Howorth or some other like eminent man y^t is in fauor wth the Archbishop would goe thorough stiche, but I am fearefull to vnder-take any thing by cause of my daughters inconstancy & allso for hir want of iudgment to pitche vpon so weake an instrument as M^r Coleman — for things may so happen as wee may pitch vpon some chaplein of the Archbishop or some of the Judges, & I know no cause why wee or shee should be so hasty to p^rsent or pitch upon any man as yet, for it is to no purpose at all for the Bishop of Norwich dare not sup^rinstitute another & if he should The Archbishop will be vtterly ag^t it as a thing most vnlawfull. but I protest that I am not disaffected any way to M^r Colman if wee could haue any confidence that he & his brother had freinds & power to wade through such troubled waters, & besides it will cause suspicōn of my daughters integrity if she p̄sent not such an one as may credit the cause — But there is no cause to resolute of any clarke to be p̄sented till the next terme & so we haue time ynough to conferr of it at leisure for I haue taken order to secure all things & expect full answers either next Saterday or tuesday or Wednesday following at furthest. So ceasing yo^r further trouble at this time, & reseruing an indifferent affecōn towards M^r Colman, in hast of other businesses I rest

SIR MY WORTHY COUSIN.

I should be extreame faulty for writing so seldome, if you were not extreame good favourably to interpret it. I am confident that you are no vigorous exacter of that which is your due, but are most ready to pardon the faultes of those who esteeme it a great honour if you account them your saythfull servants, in which number I hope you ever placed me, who will alwayes labour to deserve that dignity, and to haue that ranke in your affection. I may boldly say that y^e tender of my service vnto you is not made of that complementall matter with those at Court. S^r if I should write you what newes was stirringe y^e last weeke I should shew my selfe ignorant that M^r Cage was in the citye, although I could not be so happy as to meet him in his lodginge. The latter end of this terme the Lord Bishoppe of Lincolne, and one M^r Osberson schoolemaster of Westminster and his great favourite were sole actors in the last sceene at Starre-chamber, and both of them came off in a Tragicall manner: the Bish. of Lincolne was fined three thousand poundes for writing a very scandalous letter against the right honourable Judges of that Court. M^r Osberson sent letters unto the Bishopp wherein he called y^e Lord-Arch-Bishopp of Canterbury false mediatour with y^e King for his Lord, also litle grace, litle urchine, and little locus: what impudent wordes were these against his grace of Canterb? Yesterday this peccant was degraded, deprived, fined five thousand poundes, to have one of his eares nayled vnto the pillary in Westminster Yard, and then to be removed into the Denary Yard before his schoole, there to haue his other eare nayled to the pillary, and then to be imprisoned — w^t madness is it for men to use their pens in such a manner? Your sage Apothegmes shall make me shunne all such extreames, and avoid all such Catechreses, wherein I see much folly but no piety.

I make tender of my most humble service to your Selfe and to my deare Cosens with protestation ever to honour all yo^r vertues and passionately to be even all my life

GOOD COZEN

I receiued the last night a letter from you whearin you beecome a petitioner vnto him whome you haue power to comãd, and in that particular whearein I should receiue the benifite and you the trouble, and therefore easily assented-vnto on my part, withoute the claime of aney former contract w^{ch} that sadd diaster of youres brake (to owre greate sorrow) but thus standes the case now with vs, that for my parte I am attending the parlement wth a petition for to bee relieued concerning those suffrings and sensures w^{ch} I haue vndergon, by reason of my beeing in the parlament heeretofore, and how long that may require my attendance I am vncertaine — beesides there is an expectation that I shall bee chosen to serue for this parlament w^{ch} if it shall soe faleowte I bee-lieue there will bee a comãde vpon mee as I conceiue will bee vpon all the members of the howse of Coñons that they shall not depart withoute leaue from the howse, w^{ch} I thinke will hardly bee obteyned and therfore I hope this shall serue for a iust excuse for mee; And for my wife I leaue her to her selfe, w^{ch} is the course now heald wth everie boddie; I presume you heare of all passages of the parlament & thearefore I will not trouble you therewth; yesterday the howse concluded on two subsidies in steed of the hunderd thowsand poundes formerly ordered for the suppley of the armies the things now in agitation is concerning my lord keeper whoe is thought will hardly come of and some other iudges concerning the Shipmoney, which is voted by the howse of Comons to bee illegall and damned by them (nullo contradicente;) I have not time to inlarge my selfe farther but wth maney thancks for this your kinde invitation and for all other your loving expressions I conclude and rest

SIR

I am ready to serue you with my penn, when there is any newes stirring here at London: your acceptance herof increase my resolution not to fayle you. The Par^{l^{te}} is long in giuing birth to their great affayres. It is thought that the Arch B^p of Canterbury & Judge Bartlett will be tried at y^e Kings

Bench for Treason before the end of this Terme: the articles of Treason against Judge Bartlett haue passed in y^e House of Co^mons this weeke; he is to be co^mitted to y^e Tower. The Par^lte are much troubled about raysing of moneyes to discharge both armyes: it is sayd y^t all plate shall be brought up to y^e mint, and there melted for coyne: there is an act expected for this purpose, but this will not be effected without much difficulty. There haue a bill passed against pluralities of livings for Churchmen: & it was feared that the house of Co^mons would haue passed a bill for the extirpation of root & branch of Bishops, but this is deferred untill next weeke: It is thought the Par^lte will be adjourned about midso^mer untill Michaelmass: the King will go to the Parlite in Scotland about the beginning of the next month: his prouision & Trunkes are already gone. The Prince lately broake his arme, but he is now well, & this weeke was made gouernour of y^e Artillery. Sir Robt Crane desired me to informe you that there haue been offered for your best hoppes eight & forty shillings a hundred, & for y^e old ones sixe nobles: if they were sent up & your price it is likely the price would be moore then the country will affoord. I wish you may find better chapmen then your last, who is likely never to pay you a penny. I haue some new bookes and speeches about y^e matters now in question, w^{ch} I intend to bring downe to Holbrooke with me y^e latter end of next weeke y^t I may be at y^e Court on Thursday in Whitsonweeke. I heard not from you this weeke about your stuffe, y^t you made choyce of out of y^e patterns y^t I sent you by old Good^m Hale. Sir, be confident of my reall service to you & my cousens, for there is none moore then I

MY LOUING COUSEN,

I haue many engagements to serue you though at this tyme not much newes: I shall not write w^t I heare, Sir Robert Crane will affoord larger & moore true intelligence before my tre shall be at Holbrooke. I would not be false in those things y^t I receiue upon report, & these only matters of newes.
I haue sent you downe some eight small things from y^e press: these feare no light. You heard last weeke of y^e iudg^t agst my Lord Digby: you shall heare y^t a booke called y^e protestation protested (supposed to be written by M^r Pyrton) shall have y^e same sentence to be burnt & recalled, so I send not one of y^t to you. Vpon a motion in y^e house Mr. Whitaker was released from his imprisonment, & admitted into y^e house upon his subjection. They have voted another clause in y^e B^{ps} bill, y^t all process y^t shall issue forth after y^e first of August next for Ecclesiasticall affayres shall be directed to y^e nine Co^mmissioners, And y^t after y^t tyme any fve or moore of y^m shall haue full power to try Ecclesiasticall Causes, to call annuall synodes, & to appoint 12 Divines in each county for to ordayne ministers at 4 tymes in y^e yeare. The Earle of Holland sent up a lre w^{ch} was read in y^e lower house, wherein he desired y^t he might exercise Marshall Law in y^e army, y^e souldiers being very unruly: this would not be hearkened vnto: yet it was ordered y^t they should pay their ingagements in all places where they were billeted, as they receive their pay at disbanding. There was a report y^t divers B^{ps}. & Deanes haue lately cutt downe much tymber upon their lands: then it was ordered y^t they should be accountable for w^t was cutt downe. Last Saterdag there was a controversy between y^e Lord Chamberlayne & y^e Lord Matravers: The Lord Matravers gaue my L^d Chamberlayne y^e lye, wherupon he stricke Matravers over the head with his staffe: Then y^e Lord Matravers tooke up a standish & threw at y^e Lord Chamberlayne: this moved so great a stirre y^t y^e Co^mittee did rise: complaynt was made to his Ma^{ty}, & on Monday y^e upper house co^mitted y^m both to y^e Tower. The Queenes journey to y^e

Spaw is stayed. I must goe no farther, I am too much forgetfull; Excuse me Sir, I had rather haue y^e truth of my newes questioned, then your expectation of newes upon Saturday at night should be frustrated. It is M^r Lamberts Motto y^t newes Decies repetita placebit, & it shall be my resolution ever to be seruiceable to my friendes. I heard nothing from my Vnkle Cage this weeke, yet I haue sent her downe stuffe for a gowne. The hopp money is not yet payed, neither doe I know when it shall be; yet there is no question of y^e payment therof. If I had received this money I would haue payed M^r Russells: I heard not from him & so conclude y^t y^e money is sent up. I intend to buy a chamber w^{ch} is over me: it is a very litle one, but shall content me: this afternoone I resolute upon it. I enclose in this t're a pre of Vervells;¹ they cost me 4^s 6^d. I am not forgetfull to send downe a leure: the heat of y^e weather & y^e spreading of infections make me to retyre in: there died this weeke of y^e pox fourescore & eight, & 56 of y^e plague. Bankes his house in Chancery lane is shutt up, & his wife dead of y^e plague: there are foure houses at least in Holborne visited: 10 died this last weeke of y^e plague in y^t parish. I keepe myselfe to my chamber, Grayes Inn Hall & y^e Walkes. I receiued this weeke a very kind t're from my sister Dorothy; I pray excuse me for not sending her an answer. I know you are much troubled about Poll money: my best seruice to you & my Cousen Prestons & y^e rest of my

I receiued and read your letter of y^e last week wth as much pleasure as I should y^e will of him that had bequeathed a matter of valew vnto me, (att so high a rate doe I esteeme of your favours) and had rather be silent att this time, then so ill-requite you as to make you a sharer in these troublesome imployments in cuntry affayres, were it possible to auoyd it, but I am so earnestly and howerly solicited by diuers of your neighbours to certifie you what I am inform'd concerninge there estates w^{ch} I could by no meanes refuse without y^e hazard of much clamor and censor they havinge possessed diuers how uniust and wrongfully they are sessed for more then they ought to be by y^e statute, the cheiff and principall that complayne are ffrācis Johnson of Shimplin frō whome you shall receiue a letter) who hath informed me w^{ch} is seconded by his neighbor Plampin and an other, that his estate doth not exceed 53ⁿ p ān and that he hath not any money or stock more then is vsed vpon his farme, w^{ch} will not amount vnto 500ⁿ att y^e most: M^r Miller of Stoake doth likewise complayne and M^r Mountioy who was y^e onely sessor of him doth confesse he was mistaken and hath done him wronge, w^{ch} apeares by a note under his hand. Coe of Grotten doth also protest his estate to be farr short of that he is sessed for; all w^{ch} I shall leaue to y^rself to doe as you shall thinke Just and fitt, and if you doubt of y^e truth of any of there alligations you may be pleased to haue a fuller information when you come into y^e cuntry, (which I heare will be very speedely) and if then you find iust cause for easinge any of them I shall most willingly ioyne wth you in it. I shall stay in this cuntry this week to receiue your comānds the next returne's and then I am bound for Norfolk. I am about ingrossinge y^e townes in my deuision for y^e poll money. It was Satterday before I came to London therefore I could not give you this trouble soe soon as you expected it my owne occasions not giving me leysure to write on tuesday; for newes I shall onely let you know what I suppose you haue heard, although pchance wth lesse certainty, y^e defeat at Winchester, given by y^e Pliaments forces under Hurry and Brown proues to be a great dammage to y^e King the fewest horses and arms that were taken are said to be neare upon 600 being 2 Regiments, aboue 20 Officers and gentlemen were taken prisoners (hauing retired from y^e parpet into y^e castle w^{ch} they were not able to defend) amongst whom were y^e L^d Grandison and S^r Major Willis for a while, but as they were in a narrow lane on y^e way towards Portsmouth, these 2 (in a mist) leaped y^e hedge and escaped, for whom those who were intrusted wth them make no other excuse but that they left their Honour behind them (w^{ch} they will keep fast) hauing ingaged it to be true prisoners. here at y^e L^{ds} house hath been much dispute about y^e late petitions, and making certain expositions, some were of opinion y^t y^e petitions for accomodation were unduely procured (and chiefly by malignants who haue not contributed) and therefore would haue had them been reproved, and would either haue had ppositions of higher demands or none, y^e others carried it, being 13 voices ag^t: 10, and haue framed propositions w^{ch} were sent in tuesday night to y^e house of commons who deferred y^e debate of them untill this day, amongst them these were y^e chief, that y^e bills of plurality, y^e synods meeting, an act for ecclesiasticall government &c: might passe, y^t all delinquents who were impeached before y^e 1st of January (y^t is before his M^{ty} left London) and y^e L^d Digby might answer to their impeachments, y^e rest on both sides be pardoned, onely marq: Hartford remoued from y^e government of y^e Prince, y^e Earle of Worcester, Bristol, L^d Herbert and Willmot (with some others) remoued from y^e verge of y^e court, these are y^e cheif ag^t w^{ch} y^e other 10 Lords, or some of them, did protest, and if y^e house of commons will allow of them it is hoped they may produce a treaty, w^{ch} may proue a faire step towards peace. Mr. Smiths presentation was excepted ag^t by y^e Bp because he cannot evidence y your title, and bec: no witnesses were at y^r presentation, and you wrote Mathiæ for Mathæo, he sends you here-with a new forme, and desires you to direct him how to proue your title (I suppose he may doe it by y^r inrollments here) and to send all to him by y^e Warwick carrier wth directions to leaue it at Witsfords bridge at M^r Smith's in his next return, where he will inquire for it. Soe wishing your selfe and M^r Preston (wth his M^{rs} Preston) to whom I desire my service may be presented, all happinesse and a merry Christmas to boot, I rest

S^t CLEERES IN EAST 27th of May 1644

WORTHYEST COSEN

I receaued your late most freindly expressions added to those last courteous embraces of mee at Waldingfielde your letter of the date 13th of May arryued my hands not till the 24th at london ; it was by some miscarriage so slowe in the passage, otherwyse the present necessityes would haue importuned your further trowble in that rent of Timperleyes. Where merritt stopps I can only make you returne of empty thanks: vnlesse you will fauour mee with some commands to serue you either heere or at London ; which as they shall bee exceedinge acceptable so shall they appeare by that sedulity of affection I will vse in the pursuance of them. S^r I thanke you for your rectifyinge M^r Base the sollicitour in his opinion ; truly hee was extreemly mistaken in mee if hee showld beelieve that either my business hadd receaued any foyle at y^e Committee of sequestrations, or that I hadd passed by that Committee with any distrust of theyr iustice & after preuayled with my lord of Manchester. I was assured of all possible aduantage that Committee cowld give mee to accomplish my owne dues by Sergeant Wylde if y^e Committee cowld haue mett ; but that Abstract of mischeife, that Carnall Cardinall of Canterburye his arraygnement, thrust off all private affayres. I haue nowe sent you by my man those writts of Execution against Tymperley. the summe due to mee for rent and reparations is, as will appeare by both the writts, one hundred wantinge one pownds. but besydes the want of my owne so longe forcinge to some other extreamityes (hauinge quite exhausted my selfe in the seruice of y^e state) I haue spent neere vppon one hundred pownds in acquisition of that my due ; therefore you may iudge of a Roman conscience towards those they call hereticks, nay they are nowe lost to all morall honesty. I entreat you Cosen to represent my condition as it is to Mr. Base. I am very confydent his integrity of affection to the publicke will giue him such a sense of my assiduity of seruice, and y^e great expence I haue beene at, neuer receauinge yett one penny either of pay or other advantadge from the State (which most men haue looked cheifly vppon) that hee will speedily make payment to you of this to you; beeleiue mee Cosen I haue heere about my Howse aboue 400^{li} p^{er} ann^{um}. throwne into my hands by the late Kentish rebells, all unstockt that make nothinge at all of, hauinge noe mony to stocke it my Norfolke you knowe how stubborne they are & knavish I professe seriously I receaue not a thirde part of my rents there, so that I am not asslamed to professe the truth in these afflicted tymes. I suffer so as I knowe not howe to subsist vnlesse I bee speedily according to the ordinance of Parliament supplied with this little; nowe much more to mee then formerly. I beeseech you Cosen make M^r Base sensible of it & lett him bee confydent I shall bee most ready to requite this his iust respect to mee by any seruice hee shall vse mee in either at the parliament or heere. I helped him to 400^{li} p^{er} Ann^{um}. sequestration of M^r Campions estate neere Thetford at my last meetinge with him: present my seruice to M^r Cage & his wyfe, to my Cosen Robyn Appleton & these my freinds at Hyldersham. S^R

I made a promise to M^r Robt Appleton of this trouble w^{ch} I now pay to you, having desighned it the last week, but I could not get from St. Cleers untill Fryday was past. I was promised by a freind of yours & mine there to haue a letter sent after me this week to inclose in this, that might have rendred these lines more acceptable, for when I have tendred you my unprofitable service, I have no more to adde, having obsti-nately resolved to spot no paper with newes whilst the penny-worth from the presse may out-doe me; the return of S^r Peter Killegrew did not sattisfy the hopes of the peaceably affected here, nor their expectation; although if I could send you the perfect copy (w^{ch} I have not now by me) you might set your judgement & affections at dispute, whither hopes of accommodation were not glimmering, nay whither Peace might not possibly bud before the Spring ; tis something that his M^y hath bid a little fairer, and has offered, that w^{ch} we haue soe long prayed for, his royall person, although not yet divested of some attendants and conditions, yet the next offer may out-leap this a foot or two, and many here beleeeve it were not amiss to meet as farre on the way as safety will permitt, soe many here drawing severall and almost contrary ways, whilst they look at the Presbyterian or Independent ways as irreconcilable, as Oxford and Cambridge, or, rather, London, w^{ch} may now be the mother university as well as y^e metropolis, or mother-church, fittly soe called if we look at her fruitfullness, or rather ranknesse, but some late petitions (and one if I be not misinformed now framing very fullhanded) with a letter sent this day from the Ministers of London to y^e assembly, concurrent with another from the Generall assembly in Scotland (read also this day) all against toleration of sectaryes, may seem to promise a bank to that torrent which boasts to foretell its inundation (and now I remember that some of the most prolificall fathers of that trade (although they are of all trades) will have the waters in Holy Script : signify the multitudes of Godly congregated people etc :) indeed they have much overflowed of late, and the rather because many of y^e weaker have turned with the tide. If you observed the moderat intelligencer, w^{ch} ended at Decemb : 25, in his beginning he insinuates a way for guifted men to be sent preachers into y^e North although they be not ordayned ministers, some imagine for this reason, that in regard trading is now decayed and some of the best Livings (and he desires not the worst onely for them) might supply their wants (as they bring guifts to supply y^e peoples wants) yet when it shall please God to better trading (beyond livings, as some hope it will shortly fall out) they may lay down their benefices and return to their trading again, no ministeriall character sticking upon them: and for the stock of sermons w^{ch} they may have spent, they may have gained from their spirituall living a stock to set up their Craft again; but I crave pardon for thus running beyond y^e Constable; the Committee for accommodation may be thought to silence all these, and other differences, and tye us up within o^r covenant, for w^{ch} I am informed there hath been great & almost p^rvalent dispute, the businesse in Ireland seems to look hopefully, Ormond is quite out with the Rebels, & hath released y^e Chief Justise Parsons, Meredith, and some others who in favour of the Irish have been imprisoned a long time, & they have liberty to come for England or stay. I had need aske pardon again for this tediousnesse; especially when I consider how happily you haue bestowed your contemplations, and how worthily. I pray for all increase of love and happiness betwixt your selfe and worthy Lady, and shall ever be

Your most faithfull

I am glad to heare of your and my sisters health, and am very willing to embrace the proposition M^r Darcy hath made for the hiring of Kentwell, but if you could soe worke it, I had rather sell him my wiues interest absolutly, but for appointing a meeting now my business here will by noe meanes admit, therefore be pleased at your returne from London to nominat what day you will at Bucknam and god willing I will not faile to attend him if you give me but a nights warning ; I have not yet receiued an answer from M^r Goddard, therefore my humble s^rvice to you is that you will take the first oportunity you can after your ariuall at London to speake with M^r Goddard and M^r Greene for the forbearance of the money for six moneths that I may have time to put off my land to my

I humbly thanke you for the fauour of your letter and the care you expresse in what has bin desired by me. My mother presents hir seruice to your wife and selfe, and giues you many thanks for your fauour in this particular. Concerning Mr. Appletons desire intimated in his letter to you, my mother has commanded me to say this, that she can lett M^r Appleton haue a Thousand pound vpon land security, bonds being of a very incerteine nature, as the constitution of affaires now are, for a twelvemonth at least, and longer, if his occasions require it. The time he desires the money att cannot be performd by my mother, for it will not be in hir power to dispose of it till May day: the very next day following, it will vpon the security now proposed by me be at his seruice payable at London. I shall not adde any more particulars, being desirous M^r Appleton will be pleasd as he passes thorough Bury to speake with my mother who is very willing to pleasure him in this and any other thing in hir power, to whom I am also a most humble seruant

I have returnd you

I have heretofore had y^r answer in Chancery y^t yo^u never saw nor knew of any wrightings that could demonstrate any Title, or interest of mine to those Lands, or Tenements in Litle Stonham & Mendleshā, w^{ch} weare made to y^r Lady in Joynture, & I knew y^r Noblenes, & worth to be such I durst not disbeleuee it, But I thinke I haue now fownde sufficient evidence to manefest me to be heire (at Cōmon Law unto my Grandfather Robt. Crane Esq^r) to all those Lands that weare his in both those Townes before mention'd, yet I doubt not but there hath beene endeours vsed to weaken my interest, or distroy my Title, but I never yet saw the thinge y^t should doe it, & hauing soe stronge an Intaile (as I can produce) my freinds are vnwillinge I should rest satisfied wth a verball satisfaction. I haue beene towld by y^rselfe & Mr. Creame y^t there hath beene severall ffines, & Recoveries to enable S^r Robt. Crane to conuey, & setle this estate in Stonham & Mendlesham as he has donne: If yo^u pleas y^e next Tearme att London, or here in the Cuntry to lett my Councell see such a Recouery as will admitt noe error, or exception, & the Indenture leadinge the vse of it debarringe all my right, I shall acquiesse, & take it as a fauor that yo^u will putt noe farther trouble vpon

I presented you a Lre by my Mercury last weeke & therin an Account of my transactions for you here, I was welcomed to Towne with the good newes of Judge Atkins health, & that the report of his sickness was false. I have amended the Erratas in my Comission of Adjuncts, & there stands two Common Law Judges of the Quorum: w^{ch} is my advantage though displeasing to the D^m Delegates, & hath not been granted this foure yeares at least; for I procured y^e last Presidents therein. I obtained three Judges hands for a hearing yesterday morning: but Dyer y^e Adverse Proctour is either not come to Towne, or very closely conceales himselfe: for I attended daily at his lodging & made the best enquiry I could: that I must deferre untill his arrivall, & hope before the midle of y^e Terme to haue a Decree for y^e continuance of my wifes Admōn: but it must be through the fauor of friends to gett a hearing before the end of the Terme: yet the Judges are so sensible of their proceedings at D^m Comōns that I hope through Gods blessing to effect it: Since the former I haue found Dyer & am in hott pursuit, & in good expectation: I find the estate increase rather yⁿ lessen. M^r Tho. Canham tells me his brother your Townesman hath left 30^l for your use: w^{ch} I shall receiue & pay upon the first opportunity. HONOUR'D MADAM,

The reason of my not sending punctually according to my promise y^e last week, was by reason of my deare wifes distemper, who has been afflicted wth so great a feauer since her deliuery, y^t D^r Brown has been thrice wth her, shee is yet very weak & faint, but in a much better temper, & getts some sleep, so y^t I hope by y^e grace of God y^t shee is now in a way of recouerie. I haue sent yo^r Ladis^p the 240th, all that is due for my wife's maintenance, I desire y^t yo^r Ladis^p would send mee a receipt of it. About a fortnight or 3 weeks hence I intend (God willing) to go for London & if I can possibly I will wait upon yo^r Ladis^p in my passage at Holbrook. If yo^r Ladis^p can finde anything about y^e settlement of S^r William

Anne = Sir Thomas Wodehouse, Susan, Lady = Henry writer of 36. Belasyse = James Fortrey.

The preceding tables show the relationship of the writers of most of the letters here printed. There are a few persons, who call themselves "kinsman" to Isaac Appleton, whose connection though real was probably distant, and such that I am unable to explain it. They are Sir George Waldegrave, Sir Clement Heigham, and Walter Long. The last was of Wiltshire and M. P. for Ludgershall in 1640. Nephew John Wentworth undoubtedly married a daughter of Dorothy Alington, but whether a Leventhorp or a Holford I cannot say; perhaps his wife was Dorothy Leventhorp, writer of 33. Henry Smyth, writer of 8 and 12, who married Sarah Appleton, was Master of Magdalen College, Cambridge, and Rector of Hildersham. Edward Rainbowe, writer of 17 and 19, married a daughter of Henry Smyth, whom he succeeded as Master of Magdalen, and later was also Bihsop of Carlisle.
